I. BACKGROUND

The Bicycle Registration Reform Amendment Act of 2008 (Bicycle Act of 2008) has repealed the regulations governing the mandatory registration of bicycles being operated in the District of Columbia. Bicycles will no longer be registered at District Government facilities, including those of the Metropolitan Police Department.

The Bicycle Act of 2008 requires that, as of June 1, 2008, persons regularly engaged in the business of selling bicycles inform each purchaser, in writing, how to voluntarily register their bicycle. Until the Mayor establishes, through rulemaking, an alternative bicycle registry, bicycle owners will be encouraged to register their bicycles with the National Bike Registry.

The Bicycle Act of 2008 further requires that the Metropolitan Police Department (MPD) check the identification number of any bicycle recovered by the MPD against the National Bike Registry (or, in the future, any other bicycle registry established by the Mayor) and notify the owner of the recovered bicycle. The purpose of this Special Order is to establish the procedures for conducting the National Bike Registry check.

[NOTE: The amendments to the District of Columbia Theft and White Collar Crimes Act of 1982 (D.C. Official Code § 22-3201 et seq.) and Title 18, District of Columbia Municipal Regulations (Vehicles and Traffic) caused by the Bicycle Act of 2008 are included in Attachment A.]
